The Vereinigung Berliner Strafverteidiger e.V., in cooperation with the Senatsverwaltung für Bildung, Jugend und Familie Berlin, offers free legal advice
for children, adolescents and young adults from all over Berlin in four youth facilities..

Lawyers in private practices advise young people up to the age of 27 if they cannot afford their own lawyer.
They can be reached quickly in legal conflicts.
The advisory sessions, for which no ‘advisory aid cheques’ are needed,
cover criminal law, though also social law, family and maintenance law as well as other legal fields.

They are free and anonymous. Lawyers are bound by the confidentiality principle.

You can choose which counselling centre to contact no matter where you live.
It helps if you bring any corresponding documents with you.
It is always advisable to make an appointment by phone beforehand.
